

TRICOUNTY TELECOM
Privacy Policy

TriCounty Telecom (“TriCounty” or “Company”) is committed to protecting its customers’ privacy. Please review this Privacy Policy to better understand how TriCounty collects information, how that information is used, and your options as to the collection and use of information. This Privacy Policy is applicable to TriCounty’s customers and to visitors of TriCounty’s website and is intended to provide information regarding TriCounty’s methods for collection and use of information.

What types of information does TriCounty Telecom collect?

Whether you are communicating with TriCounty or using a TriCounty service, TriCounty may collect two types of information: personal information and non-personal information. “Personal information” refers to information that is particular to you, such as, your name, address, phone number, fax number, and e-mail address. “Non-personal information” refers to information that does not by itself identify a specific individual. This information includes websites visited, network traffic data, services and features used or call record details.

How do we collect information from you?

TriCounty may collect information from you through communications such as via the web, or by phone, email or mail delivery, or through the services provided to you as the customer.

You may visit our site without divulging any personal information; however, there are areas of this site that might require personal information in order to contact TriCounty directly, specifically, when registering e-mails, obtaining remote access, and contacting online technical support.

Information may be collected in the following ways:

- Browsing our site

- IP addresses may be collected for the purposes of system administration, to gather broad demographic information, and to monitor the level of activity on our site.

- Information may be collected regarding the referring URL, which browser you used to come to our site, and the pages of our site that you viewed during your visit and any search terms entered on our site.

- E-mails may be sent by the customer to TriCounty on this website. TriCounty may retain the information in any e-mail that you send to us, such as your name, e-mail, address, or telephone number.

- Broadband Internet Service

- TriCounty may monitor the network and take measurements of network performance and the performance of your Internet connection to improve the customer’s, or TriCounty’s, overall service levels.

-during communications with TriCounty for service support, we may also access information about your customer premise equipment such as computers and wireless modem devices or other device settings to provide customized technical support or to install specific applications or services for your use.

-TriCounty reserves the right to access broadband traffic from individual accounts for the purposes of general maintenance and management of the network, as well as upon request by law enforcement officials.

- Provision of Information by Third Parties

- TriCounty may obtain credit information about you from third parties when you purchase products or services from TriCounty.

How is your personal information used?

TriCounty uses your information in connection with delivering its products and services to you. TriCounty may also use the information supplied in order to personalize portions of your service. Some of these personalized services are made available directly by TriCounty, while others may be offered by its content partners. In addition, TriCounty analyzes and evaluates customer preferences, comments, and criticisms of its offerings in order to make improvements to the present and future versions of the individual service.

TriCounty may use personal information it collects to provide you with information or samples that you have requested. In addition, we may use the non-personal information we collect to provide you with a better service experience in the future. TriCounty does not rent, sell or trade your private information to any non-affiliated third party.

With whom do we share your information?

Unless you request otherwise, we may share certain personal or non-personal information with our affiliated companies with whom we have established business relationships.

TriCounty will never willfully disclose individually identifiable information about its customers to a third party without first receiving that customer's permission unless TriCounty believes in good faith that the law requires it, or to protect the rights or property of TriCounty.

How does Tri County protect your personal information?

TriCounty takes reasonable precautions to protect your personal information against unauthorized access by requiring employees to use secured access authentication and passwords to obtain customer information and by storing electronic file information on a secure server, which is accessible only by authorized personnel.

Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure and we will not be held liable should a third party illegally obtain your personal information via Internet transmission. While we have made significant efforts to protect your personal information, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to us, and you do so at your own risk.

TriCounty takes special care to protect the safety and privacy of young people using its services. TriCounty does not knowingly collect information about children. TriCounty believes that children should get their parents' consent before giving out any personal information. TriCounty encourages parents and legal guardians to participate in their child's experience using TriCounty's services. Children should always ask a parent for permission before sending personal information to TriCounty.

How does the customer provide consent?

By using TriCounty's services, you agree with our Privacy Policy and our practices and procedures contained herein regarding the collection and sharing of your information. To opt out of the sharing of your information for marketing purposes, please contact TriCounty.

How often are changes made to the Privacy Policy and how will you learn of the changes?

TriCounty reserves the right to change, modify or update this Privacy Policy at any time without notice. In the event of any modification, we will post the changes in this Privacy Policy so that you will always know what information we are gathering and how we might use that information. However if such changes are material, we will either announce the change on the home page of the site or take such other action as we deem appropriate under the circumstances. Accordingly, you should periodically visit this page to determine the current Privacy Policy to which you are bound.
